Dear Friends and Friends I am yet to meet

I'm always happy when SpringDale is a buzz and that happened a number of times over the last month, especially during the days of the Care Share Repair Café and the SpringDale Art Show. The good energy was palpable. So many people, happily helping so many other happy people - I love it. I was able to darn 2 jumpers, a cardigan, a Donegal scarf and a pair of socks all reasonably invisibly. The owners were very happy, one was over the moon happy.

Everyone who participated, volunteers and community members had a great time. We shared time, skills, energy and knowledge, but most of all, the joy of helping a previously broken thing back to life was so rewarding, satisfying and incredibly practical.

Thanks to the City of Greater Geelong for supporting this initiative with a Community Grant, and thanks to all our volunteers for their time and energy. This has been the catalyst to start a Repair Café on the first Saturday of the month, starting on Sat 2 Nov 9am-12noon at SpringDale. Items smaller than a breadbox welcome. (If you have a skill to share - you are welcome too). We hope to run our Repair Café once a month on a Saturday morning maybe the 3rd Saturday in the month. Please let us know if you would like to be part of it or if you think it is a good idea.

I'm so glad to get a few SpringDale items repaired, including 2 music stands and a number of our electrical items tested and tagged. So happy.

November is the month in which we celebrate the previous year of activities, in the form of our Annual Meeting, and this year's will be held on Friday 29 November 5pm - all welcome - especially our members to celebrate all the activities of the year.

Be part of the upcoming edition now!

coming to rely upon for information

Then we will launch into Christmas Meals again. We have secured another City of Greater Geelong Christmas Grant to help us deliver Christmas meals to our community again. There will be a number of opportunities for people to help us prepare, cook and present Christmas meals for people at SpringDale, and there will be pick up and deliver options for those who cannot attend SpringDale.

As with all of our activities, we rely heavily on our volunteers to help us provide this service. Last year we created more than 1000 Christmas meals and we hope increase that figure this year. Those who have been part of one of our meals are looking forward to another one this year, but there is always room for a few more.

Many people enjoyed being able to deliver meals to neighbours/friends/family members, who weren't well or not able to come to SpringDale. If you would like to help or would like to donate to help us deliver this service, please contact SpringDale via office@ springdale.org.au or ring 5253 1960 - we will appreciate your donation.

Looking forward to seeing you at SpringDale sometime soon

Bellarine Update

It's exciting to see so many projects underway across the Bellarine.

With funding agreements now having been signed, work is set to commence on the second stage of the North Bellarine Aquatic Centre next year. This will include an indoor eight-lane 25-metre pool, a warm water pool, gymnasium and group exercise classes and associated facilities.

In September, the Consultation Summary Report for the St Leonard's Local Port Area Plan was published, detailing the response and feedback from nearly 800 community members. This feedback from the Bellarine community is shaping the next step of the project as Parks Victoria currently conducts further investigations to refine design options for the St Leonard's Pier redevelopment. My website has further information.

Construction is nearing completion at the St Leonard's Boat Ramp. As one of the most popular fishing and boating destinations on the Bellarine, this new jetty will feature more protection for boaters and better access for everyone.

We've also had many projects reach completion including the dedicated Children's Emergency Department at Geelong Hospital, the Mental Health Hub in Moorabool St, for a single-entry point for support, and an Early Parenting Centre for bubs and families.

Upgrades at the intersection of Bay Shore Ave and Jetty Rd in Clifton Springs were completed in September, adding a roundabout, and raised pedestrian crossing to improve the safety of our drivers, pedestrians, cyclists and boat users, who are entering the harbour, and in time for the busy summer period.

The Container Deposit Scheme, has just celebrated the one-year mark since it began on the Bellarine! What started as two deposit machines in Ocean Grove and Leopold, has since grown to 7 deposit accessible machines across the Bellarine. It has been incredible to see so many locals, community organisations and kids join in the initiative to reduce waste!

I have also been busy meeting with many local constituents and community groups regarding upcoming events, grant applications, and areas of the Bellarine they're passionate about, or State Government concerns they may have for the electorate.

In my very first contribution to The SpringDale Messenger, I stated how important it was for me to be accessible to the community. As your State Member, it is important that I hear directly from you.

This could be regarding areas including:

- Transport infrastructure, public transport, active transport and road safety
- · Local healthcare services
- Applying for state government grants
- Early childhood, primary and secondary education
- Community sport
- State policy reforms
- Environmental issues

- · Community safety
- Cost of living pressures

So, whether it's an email to my office, a chat at a local market or my coffee with a pollie event, you can always contact me about the issues that matter to you.

If you're looking for regular updates alongside this community column, be sure to follow my social media on Facebook and Instagram, 'Alison Marchant - Member for Bellarine', to see up to date information.

You can contact my office via email at alisonmarchantmp@parliament.vic.gov.au, phone on 03 5250 1987 or on my website at www.alisonmarchantmp.com.au/contact.

In Flanders Fields

In Flanders fields the poppies blow Between the crosses, row on row, That mark our place; and in the sky The larks, still bravely singing, fly Scarce heard amid the guns below. We are the Dead. Short days ago

We lived, felt dawn, saw sunset glow, Loved and were loved, and now we lie In Flanders fields.

Take up our quarrel with the foe: To you from failing hands we throw

The torch; be yours to hold it high.

If ye break faith with us who die

We shall not sleep, though poppies grow

In Flanders fields.

We're nearing the end of 2024, but there is still so much in store at your home of the performing arts on the Bellarine.

CircArts put the wow into work life with Off the Clock Cabaret, 8pm Saturday 9 November. Think Office Politics meets Circus. The result? Your everyday office life gets a sultry, acrobatic twist. Get ready for high-flying antics, where corporate life is anything but business as usual.

Take a trip back in time with All Shook Up, joining local historian and performance dynamo Colin Mockett, for The History of Rock n' Roll 10:30am Tuesday 12 November Morning Showtime show.

All Shook Up will provide the soundtrack to the backstory, as narrated by Colin, of how and why rock n' roll developed, and the way this unique style of music changed the way we listen to music today.

style of music changed the way we listen to music today.

Your musical lesson will include songs from artists such as Bill Hailey; Elvis; Jerry Lee Lewis; Buddy Holly: Johnny Cash; Carl Perkins; Chuck Berry; Ricky Nelson; Fats Domino and the influence these artists had on the world, and the next generation of musicians, culminating with the Beatles.

Unlike school, you are encouraged to dance in the aisles as hits from the 50s & 60s are rolled out.

Neil Diamond & Dean Martin

Then at 8pm Saturday 16 November, the sweet serenade sounds of Songbirds - Gorgi Coghlan and Anna-Lee Robertson will enchant and delight. Gorgi and Anna-Lee unite their powerful vocals to create musical alchemy. Weaving a magnificent tapestry of nostalgia and memory, wit, and wisdom through their shared realisation of well-loved songs, this joyful union showcases the consummate skill of these remarkable performers, celebrating their years of enduring friendship.

Australian entertainment stalwart Issi Dye will be joined by award-winning vocalist Glenn Douglas to celebrate two of the greats of modern popular music in Neil Diamond and Dean Martin Tribute Show 8pm Saturday 29 November. The music of Dean Martin defined the 50s and 60s with his wing King of Cool style vocals churning out hit after hit including Volare, Sway with Me, Everybody Loves Somebody Sometime and the smash That's Amore. Then in, the 70s, music changed, with Neil Diamond's best-selling album Hot August Night revealing a cavalcade of hits including Crunchy Granola Suite; Sweet Caroline; Holly Holy; I Am...I Said; Red Red Wine and many more. Join two of our greats as they revive the times when life was uncomplicated and carefree.

Re-imagining Housing for Seniors

I'm really encouraged by a number of conversations that we've had over this past month.

People are starting to think creatively about how we could be living in the future, and it so often includes ideas around community, sustainability and affordability.

We've had couples thinking about how they can develop their own land in a way that will create a place for living, socialising and belonging. This isn't the usual idea of selling land off to a developer to divide into small blocks and build 3 or 4 bedroom houses with all the mod-cons. This is thoughtful planning about homes that appeal to people who want to perhaps downsize and retire into a little community.

We've had conversations with community housing organisations to see how we all could partner together to create more affordable and appropriate housing for seniors on The Bellarine.

We've also made connections with people who are concerned about the lack of affordable housing for older single people and this has resulted in two senior people each finding a place they can make their home; somewhere that's safe, affordable and desirable to live in.

Instead of slowing down for the end of the year, I feel like we're really picking up the pace and as a group we are really appreciating all those people who are sharing their ideas, sending articles and information, and offering to help in any way they can.

If you have something you'd like to share - whether it is an idea, or a house, please reach out. You never know what the outcome might be. Dianne Bennett (diannebennett4@hotmail.com)

Remembrance Day at Drysdale Cenotaph

The Drysdale RSL club will hold a small ceremony on Remembrance Day at the memorial outside our clubrooms at 13 Princess Street, Drysdale. The event this year falls on Monday 11 November.

Members of the public who want to attend should gather at the clubrooms at 10:45. We expect to have a welcome speech and some participation from local primary schools. The flag will be lowered and there will be one minute's silence at 11am followed by the Rouse and the raising of the flag. A number of deaths will be laid.

From the Australian Army website:

"11 November is universally associated with the remembrance of those who had died in the First World War. This conflict had mobilised over 70 million people and left between nine and 13 million dead and as many as one third of these with no grave. The allied nations chose this day and time for the commemoration of their war dead.

"At 11 am on 11 November 1918, the guns on the Western Front fell silent after more than four years of continuous warfare. The allied armies had driven the invaders back, having inflicted heavy defeats upon them over the preceding four months. "In November, the Germans called for an armistice (suspension of fighting) in order to secure a peace settlement. They accepted the allied terms of unconditional surrender. The 11th hour of the 11th day of the 11th month attained a special significance in the post-war years and became universally associated with the remembrance of those who had died in the war."

Since 1918 Australians have participated in wars and peace-keeping missions world-wide, from Europe to Korea to Malaysia to Iraq to Afghanistan and continuing today in the Middle East. We are continuing to supply defence materials to Ukraine, and we have invested heavily in future submarines and fighter aircraft. Apart from equipment, we have to respect those soldiers, sailors and airmen and women who have volunteered to support our national interests. On Remembrance Day we will remember the sacrifices they have made to protect our futures.

Poppy Appeal. The annual Poppy Appeal raises funds for veterans and their families. During the week leading up to Remembrance Day, the Drysdale RSL will accept donations from the public at locations around Drysdale and Curlewis. The money raised goes towards the welfare of our local veterans.

Golf Day. As advised in the last edition of the SpringDale Messenger, our annual golf day is back on, at CliftonSprings Golf Club, on Monday 18 November. Please contact the Golf Club Pro Shop directly or Geoff Fifer on 0428 222 984 for more information.

Rotary International: Empowering Education

Did you know that 17% of adults worldwide can't read? We often take reading for granted since it's such a big part of our daily lives. Whether it's understanding signs, labels, and instructions, messaging loved ones, accessing information, or just reading for fun, reading is essential. But for those who can't read, it's tough or even impossible to get important information about jobs, housing, or healthcare. This keeps them stuck in poverty, and makes them more vulnerable to exploitation and abuse.

In Australia, literacy levels among kids have been dropping in recent years. But our dedicated Bellarine North Rotarians are helping to turn things around. Since early 2023, they've sorted through 724 boxes of books donated by the 123read2me charity. These books are distributed to schools, kindergartens, and day-care centres to help disadvantaged children in our area. Plus, books donated by our club recently helped the Salvation Army open a mini library in Drysdale. We're also proud to support literacy abroad by funding the refurbishment of a building at a primary school in Siem Reap, Cambodia, which is being transformed into a library and information centre for students from nearby villages.

By empowering educators and providing resources, Rotary is making sure that learning is accessible to everyone, no matter their age or background.

Interested in having fun, making friends, and helping others? To learn more about Rotary International or join our club, please contact our Membership Officer, Caroline Rickard, at 0408 989 221.

Choose your Words Carefully

The words you choose when talking to yourself can significantly impact your mindset, emotions, and well-being. Positive self-talk helps to build self-esteem, reduce stress, improve your immune system and encourage resilience (feeling "ok"). It's not just about being positive though—there are powerful nuances to the language you use that can really cultivate a healthier mental landscape.

The Shift from "I Can't" to "I Choose Not To"

Self-talk often includes words that feel controlling and limiting, such as "I can't" or "I have to." These phrases instil powerlessness, and suggest you have no control over your decisions. Using "I choose not to" or "I prefer not to," will reclaim your autonomy and power. For instance, saying "I choose not to eat junk food today" feels more intentional than "I can't eat junk food."

The Impact of "Yet"

Another powerful addition to your self-talk is the word "yet." Saying "I can't do this," implies a permanent limitation. Adding "yet" turns a fixed mindset into a growth mindset. "I can't do this yet," encourages the belief that you can improve with effort and time.

Avoiding Absolutes

Using "always" and "never" in your selftalk exaggerates negativity. For example, "I always get it wrong" or "I never succeed" magnifies failure and detracts from your accomplishments. Instead, soften your language with "sometimes" or "this time." Rephrasing it to "I sometimes make mistakes, but I learn from them" will create a more constructive mind message.

Choosing Kindness Over Criticism

Many of us engage in harsh self-criticism, calling ourselves names or focusing on our flaws. Shifting from critical language ("I'm so stupid") to kind language ("I made a mistake, and I can learn from this") will make an incredible difference. Treat yourself with the same kindness and patience that you would offer to a friend in a similar situation.

Framing Challenges as Opportunities

Consider the way you describe obstacles in your self-talk. Instead of saying "This is too hard," try, "This is challenging, but I can figure it out." By framing difficult tasks as opportunities to grow, you will influence the way you approach and overcome challenges.

The Power of Gratitude

Gratitude can also be used in your self-talk. Shifting from "I have so much to do" to "I'm grateful for the opportunities I have today"

Remember

Positive self-talk is not just about turning every negative thought into a positive one. It's about choosing language that promotes growth, empowerment, and kindness. By making small changes to the way you speak to yourself—embracing possibility, compassion, and choice—you can enjoy the benefits of an optimistic mindset.

THE FAMILY HISTORY QUEST 07 MARRIAGE CERTIFICATES

This month, my wife and I celebrate 45 years of marriage. If you look at our registered marriage certificate it says we were married in the Drysdale Anglican Church in November 1979 and gives our address at the time and occupation. The certificate also gives our age at the time, birth dates and town of birth as well as the names of parents. All this information is important to the family historian and can be another source to confirm birth dates and establish relationships between family members.

from the SpringDale Artists will exhibit a selection of watercolour, acrylic & oil paintings at Artisans of Australia Gallery, 1475 Portarlington Rd. Culewis.

All weddings are registered with Birth Death and Marriages in their state. Birth, Death and Marriages Victoria has a free index of marriages from 1853 up to 60 years before today's date. Marriage indexes can be viewed at https://www.bdm.vic.gov.au/research-andfamily-history/search-your-family-history and certificates can be bought.

Ancestry.com has Australian Marriage Index from 1788-1950 although Victorian records are from 1853 to 1950. To access Ancestry. com you need to pay a subscription, or many libraries have free access to the indexes. While these Marriage indexes make up some of the most important indexes of early Australian marriage records, they are not necessarily 100 percent complete as compliance to registration laws, of course, varied, and Australia's vast distances complicated most any record-keeping effort.

Newspaper announcements of weddings and marriages can supplement your information and confirm information you already have. Country newspapers often had an article on the wedding which give more information on the person. Trove website (https://trove. nla.gov.au) is a free and great site to access newspaper reports or you can check out your local library for newspapers.

If you know the church a person was married in, often the churches have marriage registers in their archives and a visit could be worthwhile.

Divorce was possible in Victoria in the second half of the 19th century when the Divorce and Matrimonial Causes Act came into effect in 1861. Prior to this very few Victorian residents obtained divorces under English ecclesiastical law. The Public Record Office Victoria (PROV) holds Divorce files created between 1861 and 1944 and can be accessed at https://prov.vic.gov.au. Ancestry.com also has many divorce records.

Science fiction trailblazing...

Just received a fascinating video clip from my ubiquitous American friend Jim. It would seem that the Space X people have mastered the concept of backing down a rocket to a gantry. I have in the past, seen footage of their attempts to land rockets on their tails in true comic book style. They have had a lot of failures, and I did feel a certain scepticism as to whether we are at this point yet. But, if this clip is to be believed, they can now land to a gantry in the same way as Gerry Andersons' modules did at Moonbase in his 1970 series "U.F.O." In this story, a permanent manned base has been established on the moon. Single seater "fighter" spacecraft, and their crews are stationed there to attack invading alien saucers, before they can reach earth. Supplies and crew changes are shuttled to and from earth in modules, that vaguely resemble very simplified versions of the original N.A.S.A. space shuttle, which, at that time, existed only on the drawing board.

The "U.F.O." shuttles were released into the air from the top of conventional aircraft in flight. This was how N.A.S.A. first tested the flying capabilities of the real space shuttle. They then continued their journey into space, and on to the moon where they tilted upwards and landed backwards, down against a vertical gantry situated on top of the "Moonbase" installation.

Now if you type in Gerry Andersons "U.F.O." on You-tube, and bring up the episode "Computer Affair" (my favourite), in the very opening sequence, you can see this process take place. It certainly made for exciting television for us country kids, but I didn't think it could happen for real in my lifetime.

But hey, watch the episode and check the link! Wow! John.

Bellarine Birdlife Jacana

Recently I have been enjoying the warmth of northern Australia. I booked a tour that started in Darwin, journeyed down through Katherine then across to Kununurra in the north east corner of Western Australia. Though I thought that I had seen most birds that call Australia home, I was pleasantly surprised at the variety and number of species that were sighted.

Kununurra was established to service the Ord River scheme and is situated amongst the ranges northeast of the Kimberley Hills, on the banks of a large mainly man-made lake, Lake Argyle. Due to the abundance of fresh water, bird life congregates along the banks and on tiny islands, as they have travelled from the dry inland to drink, and enjoy a cooler water environment. Leaving our motel at 4.00am was a shock to the system, however once our group settled comfortably on our catamaran, which slowly moved out onto the smooth expansive water, we relaxed and began to enjoy the special events of the day. Our eyes gradually adjusted to the shadows of the night and then as the gentle morning light grew brighter we were able to see the outstanding coloured rock formations, the glowing colours of our surroundings and then the movements of wildlife as they awoke to a new day. Not only birds were visible, but animals, reptiles and amphibians. The boat pulled into an area and anchored and we spent hours gazing at the shoreline and the sky, watching life as it awoke for the day.

One of the birds that entertained me was a Jacana. Part of the family Jaconidae. The Jacana is a wader who delights in living amongst vegetation on the shore line, or rather in the water near the shore. It is not known for its swimming prowess even though a water bird, but Jacanas are known throughout Asia, and have many common or nick names such as 'Lily Trotter' or even the 'Jesus bird'. The bird to the observer seems to walk upon water, just as Jesus is said to have done. The ability to 'walk upon water' comes from the bird's ability to walk over lily pads and water vegetation. Its extremely long legs, thin long toes and long claws, distributes the weight of the birds allowing them to stand upon and walk over the vegetative surface.

All day I kept wishing, hoping and desiring to see a father jacana caring for his family, by carrying the young. In this species, the gender roles are reversed, with males performing most of the breeding duties. Dad makes the nest, incubates the eggs and cares for the young.

Also, this marvellous dad gathers his family together at the very first sign of danger, allowing them to crawl up under his wings and safely hide. The only sign of the youngsters are many dangling, gangly legs, seen extended from under the fathers' wings. Many wonderful images of males carrying chicks to safety have been photographed and published, but alas, not by me. Despite watching and hoping I didn't get an opportunity to see this

This safety measure occurs as death rates to the youngsters are high, with 80% of the nests being lost to predation. A photo of a protective dad with wings full, is still on my ambition list so maybe I need another trip back to our far north.

Making my Home more Sustainable - Part 17

Tim Forcey's presentation on My Efficient Electric Home Handbook went very well with over 50 people in attendance including an MP. Tim, an ex-Oil Industry Chemical Engineer, explained the steps he took upgrading his 1903 built weatherboard house and made it All Electric and then net carbon zero, and is saving over $3,000/year in energy costs. He is also a Home Comfort Advisor / Assessor and has helped people in over 2,000 homes and learnt a lot along the way.

The first strategy is generally to reduce usage, which involves improving the home envelope - that is sealing around doors, windows etc and then insulating as much as possible. The next step is to review all gas appliances and understand what would be the logical electric replacement. One may wait for units to become unreliable or be part of a related project, eg a kitchen renovation to include induction cooking or go ahead asap. However, one should do some research so one knows what to go for if the gas unit fails one cold day. Further steps are in the book.

The book is available at the Library after a long wait or can be bought from the Ocean Grove Bookgrove Store.

Soon we may be trying to keep the heat out of the home, eg by stopping the sun going directly onto the windows (external blinds, eaves, pergolas, trees or less effective but still useful, closing off the internal blinds, closing the curtains with tight fittings on the edges, installing renshade (Aluminum foil with lots of pinholes which one can see through but reflects much of the heat), double glazing, and of course taking advantage of evening / night cross ventilation.

For those who still have the original (Howard) 60c/kWh feed-in tariff, then alas they cease on Nov 1st. However it will give you the opportunity to upgrade to a much larger system at a cost much lower than your original investment though with a very much lower feed-in tariff. I noticed that for much of the time between 10.00am and 2.30pm (last week of September) residential solar in SA was supplying 80% of all South Australia's power requirements at minimal cost.

The skill is now to transfer as much of your load as possible to the middle of the day and this could include an Electric Vehicle, as it can make car transport a tiny fraction of the current running costs (Discussed last month) or replace a second car with an EBike.

On this topic the EV and EBike EXPO at SpringDale on Sunday Nov 17th is coming together with 14 cars to inspect and talk to their owners plus a range of bikes to check out and to ride plus some top experts (Bryce Gaton of The Driven and John Paul Taberdo of Good Cycles) presenting on EVs - what to buy and why, what's coming and solving the charging mysteries, plus explaining the range and also the variety of bike types.

As the last coal fired power station closes in England it reminds me of my childhood in a Mining Area - the closely knit and supportive communities, the powerful men but often with coughs and enjoying a lot of beers, the occasional disasters and the women waiting at the pit head, the shaking of the ground and sometimes the acrid fogs but mostly the generous community spirits. Now out at sea, one can sometimes glimpse the massive wind turbines quietly whirling away.

Bellarine Support Group for Kinship Carers

This year 2024, Bellarine Kinship Carers will be celebrating our 9-year anniversary.

In 2015, I walked into SpringDale and spoke to Anne Brackley, about starting a kinship support group, for all the kinship carers in our region.

Anne at first had no idea what I was talking about, but to her credit she asked lots and lots of questions. So, my dream of helping and supporting local kinship carers was starting to flourish. Anne believed in my dream, and as they say, the rest is history.

Our group started in 2015 with just two families - my granddaughter and I were one family - the other family were close friends, who were just starting their kinship journey.

But today, our numbers stand at a staggering 87 families in our local region, all travelling the kinship journey. Every single family in our group has a different story to tell, but we all have one thing in common, we love and support the children in our care.

On that note, I would like to start our 'Adopt a Kinship Family' drive, for this festive season.

All our families are numbered 1 to 87, with no identify information, but a brief description of each family.

FOR EXAMPLE

Grandparents aged over 70 years of age, with granddaughter aged 6, and grandson 10 in their care to protect their privacy.

If anyone, social group or service group would like to consider 'Adopting a Kinship Family' at Christmas, please make contact on the number listed below.

We can then have a discussion about which family would be suitable for you to adopt.

To avoid the Christmas rush, I am requesting that all 'Adopt a Kinship Family' parcels be ready for pick up, or delivery by the end of the first week of December, or at a time that is convenient. Then, I can contact the Kinship Family concerned to pick up their parcels, well before Christmas.

I would like to take this opportunity to thank the following -

Anne Brackley from SpringDale; you Anne, believed in my dream and for that I thank you.

To all the lovely community groups, service clubs and you the local community, a HUGE thank you for supporting Bellarine Kinship Carers. The smiles on the children's faces at Christmas time is heartbreaking, I so wish I could take photos of the children, but due to court orders, that is not permitted. To the awesome person who left new winter pyjamas and new winter clothing at SpringDale for the children - THANK YOU SO MUCH (you included receipts).

To all the generous people who have donated lovely hand knitted jumpers, cardigans and beanies - Again, a huge - THANK YOU.

Again, THANK YOU everyone for supporting Bellarine Kinship Carers.

If you are a kinship carer, sitting at home thinking that you are all alone, come join our group. Bellarine Kinship Carers meet on the first Monday of each month (not during school holidays), at SpringDale Neighbourhood Centre in Drysdale 10am to 12noon. Hope you can join us.

Stay safe everyone and again a huge THANK YOU to you the community.

Jeanette Hanley-Heath - 0414 308 257

Clifton Springs Garden Club

Although I touched on our outing to the Bellarine Landcare Nursery last month, I thought it worthy of mentioning again and sharing some photographs. Sixteen members braved a terrible day weather wise, but were all rewarded with a wonderful tour of the Nursery with Fiona.

We are so lucky in this area to have such wonderful community groups like this. Did you know that over the 21 years of their existence, they have returned over 1 million plants back into the local landscape, most of which have been grown by seeds collected locally (with permits), and grown by volunteers. What would we do without volunteers in our society. The nursery also sells plants to the public at a very low cost, I managed to find a few I liked, and squeezed them into my garden.

November is a busy month for the Club with Janet Allen being our last speaker for the year. She is giving us a presentation on fuchsias. I am really looking forward to this meeting. Fuchsias are one of my favourite plants and they grow very well down here as we don't have extreme weather.

We have an outing to the Great Ocean Road Nursery, followed by lunch at Common Ground Project coming up and Creswick has their annual open gardens in November so some members will spend the day in Creswick doing what gardeners love doing, looking at other peoples gardens.

Our year will finish with our annual Christmas lunch, then the Club goes into recess until February 2025. This gives the Committee time to rest, relax and regroup, ready for another Garden Club year. It also gives us time to find interesting speakers and more great places to visit.

If you would like to keep up to date with what the Garden Club is doing, contact our Secretary Helen, on telephone 5257 2220 or email hma3152@gmail.com or keep reading the SpringDale Messenger for details.

BELLARINE WANDERERS

This last month we have been near and far, with lots of different sceneries and interests.

We have walked along Griggs Creek and around Beacon Point. Also, we have walked around Point Richards, as well as discovering the smaller parks in Barwon Heads, and finally, a trip to the You Yangs.

We walk every Thursday morning starting at 9.30am for an 80 min walk. We also walk earlier on Tuesday mornings; this is for a 165min walk.

We welcomed a few new walkers this month, and if you are interested in walking, please contact the SpringDale Office Ph: 5253 1960

SpringDale Pole Walking Group

SpringDale Pole Walking Group meets Monday mornings at 8.50am at scheduled sites (list available from SpringDale office). We walk for 30 minutes one way and then back to the start. This allows faster walkers the opportunity to walk further but everyone ends up finishing at the same time. Everyone is welcome to come out for coffee after the walk. We are a friendly, happy group. New members very welcome.

Clifton Springs Curlewis Coastcare Group

Thanks to everyone who helped out at the last 5 Habitat Restoration sessions at Clifton Springs Beach. We have made significant improvement, with 6 truckloads of weeds removed.

The next Habitat Restoration weeding working bee -

Where: The Dell, Clifton Springs

When: Wed 20th November, 9:30 - 11:45am. Meet: at The Dell, clifftop carpark near the lookout. We'll walk alongside the Golf Course to our work site at the Second Dell. Look out for signage.

Join Clifton Springs Curlewis Coastcare volunteers, and City of Greater Geelong Nature Reserve Officers, for our last working bee in 2024. We'll celebrate everyone's effort this year protecting the fragile coastline, with tea and coffee afterwards. All welcome.

Our AGM will be in November to which you are all welcome.

The group will have a break from formal group weeding during summer, but will assist BCN with their "Beachcombing" activities.

We will continue the regular Waterwatch activity with water testing at two sites. This is planned for the first Monday of each month. We meet at 9.30am at the Clifton Springs boat harbour carpark. Come and visit us if you are just curious, or want to participate.

We hope our grant applications for 2025 are successful, so that next year we'll also be including some planting sessions in Curlewis and Clifton Springs.

Whack it, Smack it, Hoop it, Jump it!

Interested in croquet? Croquet is a fun sport which stimulates the mind and is good exercise for the body but not necessarily high impact and is suitable for young, older and in between.

Come along to Drysdale Croquet Club on Tuesday mornings to have a go at hitting a ball and bring a friend or two! There are many friendly members who will help show you how and equipment is provided to try out with.

Apart from the Tuesday learning and training day, we have 3 other social playing days in the week and there is always good company and a cuppa included. There are also many opportunities for more competitive play as well

Recently, we celebrated our 2024-25 season opening day with a traditional 'Running of the Hoop' which was carried out by Gerald Edgar, our most senior member at 96, Gerald attends as much as he can. Our members live locally or travel from Ocean Grove, Point Lonsdale, Indented Head, Leopold and St. Leonard's.

The Croquet Club, established in 1950, is part of the Drysdale Bowling and Croquet Club and the two courts are situated on Clifton Springs Rd, near to the Medical Clinic.

For more details, please call or text Jenny on 0428 740 591 or turn up at 9:30am on a Tuesday. We'd love to see you there.
